Junior Member Incentive Program

The purpose of this program is to promote the partnership, education, and fellowship that the American Culinary Federation (ACF) offers to all of its members. The main objective is to allow the Junior Members of the Northwest Indiana Chapter to earn points for participation in Chapter activities and advancement of culinary knowledge, skills and abilities. In return, once a Junior Member earns enough points, his or her yearly Chapter membership dues in ACF Chefs of Northwest Indiana will be paid by the Chapter. Junior Members must be in good standing with the Chapter and up-to-date in the payment of their Chapter dues. This will only be offered to Junior Members of the ACF Chefs of Northwest Indiana Chapter and can only be received for two years of membership at the Junior level.

Junior Members can earn points in a variety of ways, and must earn those points in a single calendar year. Points will not carry over into the next calendar year. The Junior Member will be responsible for recording his or her points and for completing the application to use these points.

All points must be verified by an Active Member of the American Culinary Federation (not another Junior Member.) The Junior Member must keep track of his or her own points by filling out the points form for each qualifying activity. The Junior Member will have an Active Member sign the form in order to validate the points. To earn points for ACF activities, the signing Active Member must be present at the ACF activity. The Active Member, with his or her signature, is also confirming that a Junior Member is performing up to the professional code of the ACF.

When a Junior Member earns enough points, he or she should turn all forms, along with an application, in to the Chair of the Junior Membership Incentive Committee. If the Committee determines that all criteria have been met, the Chapter will reimburse the Junior Member's dues at the next monthly meeting.

Junior Members can earn points through participation in ACF Activities, demonstration of scholarship in a culinary school, employment in the culinary field. All of the detailed information earning points within those categories is listed in the Points Form.
